

School of Continuing Studies
English Language Institute

York University

Position Title:

English Language Instructor

Reports To:

Associate Director, Special Programs

Job Description:

We are currently accepting applications for the position of English Language Instructor at the English Language Institute. Instructors at the English Language Institute are responsible for working as part of a dedicated professional team to further the vision, nature and quality of the work we do at the English Language Institute. This includes being ready to work in the area of university preparation, as well as in a number of special academic and professional English-language preparation programs and projects offered at York.

Qualifications:

We are seeking applicants with a completed Master's degree in TESL/Applied Linguistics or a closely related area, a post-degree, TESL Canada approved certificate, and at least three years of teaching experience in a similar Academic English teaching environment.

Application Procedure:

Please submit applications to Dr. Michael Twohey, Associate Director, Special Programs, mtwohey@yorku.ca