What You'll Learn

Learn how to design, deliver and assess engaging learning experiences for diverse audiences in this program, developed with industry leaders in learning and instructional design.

01 / Setting the Stage: Defining Your Learners' Needs

Apply design thinking principles and work with common constraints to develop learning experiences that equip people with the relevant knowledge and skills they need to succeed. Get hands-on LXD experience defining meaningful objectives, conducting a needs analysis and creating personas and a journey map.

02 / Creating a Proof of Concept: Developing a Learning Experience Prototype

Experience the LXD building process that transforms learning designs into learning experiences. Learn to think like a designer and prototype ideas, pilot solutions and optimize stakeholder feedback.

03 / Realizing the Vision: Building and Testing Your Learning Experiences

Enhance your skillset and professional toolbox with LXD creation skills, learning campaign strategies, assessment and evaluation know-how. Build your robust "pride of product" that exceeds your learners' and stakeholders' expectations.
